Description: The Strength Matters Financial Management Conference is designed to serve the financial managers from our nation's mission-focused community developers, as well as our key investment and accounting partners.

Look for updates on the agenda and speakers at <https://strengthmatters.net/2023conference/>.

Learning Objectives: To identify best practices in affordable housing financial management, and to explain strategies for strengthening community development organizations. Session-specific learning objectives will be available in the detailed agenda prior to the conference.

Continuing Professional Education (CPE) Credits Available: This annual conference will offer a minimum of 12 CPEs for full participation in all sessions. The detailed agenda will include additional information regarding CPE credits.

Credits are awarded based on actual participation and according to the NASBA standard of a 50-minute credit hour. If a participant arrives late or leaves early, they may earn partial credit in one-fifth increments.

IMPORTANT: Participants interested in obtaining CPE credits should SIGN IN with the CPE Session Monitor at the beginning of each session. Participants will then need to SIGN OUT with the CPE Session Monitor at the end of each session. IMPORTANT: Each room has a separate CPE tracking form. Please sign in and out for each session in that room.

Anticipated Fields of Study: Accounting, Business Management and Organization, Finance, Information Technology, Management Services, Personal Development, Personnel/Human Resources and Specialized Knowledge. Fields of Study for specific sessions will be listed on the detailed agenda available in August and may differ from this list.

Program Levels: Intermediate & Advanced. The detailed agenda will include session-specific levels.

Delivery Method: Group-Live • Advance preparation: None

Program prerequisite: Financial management experience in nonprofit or for-profit housing enterprise.

Program Feedback: Please complete a course evaluation or e-mail info@strengthmatters.net to share feedback and concerns.
