OVERALL COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

After completing this course, participants will be able to understand their role in an affordable housing project financed with Low-Income Housing Tax Credits. Participants should be able to identify financial structuring and reporting issues as they arise and research best practices for the structure, recording and financial reporting of transactions frequently encountered by affordable housing enterprises. The goal is to enable each participant to assist with the production of financial reports that are consistent with generally accepted accounting principles applied within this industry.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is designed to provide an overview of the accounting and financial reporting issues faced by a not-for-profit housing enterprise throughout the lifecycle of an affordable housing deal that is financed with Low-Income Housing Tax Credits. Anyone involved in a LIHTC deal, including the finance, development and asset management staff, as well as the audit and tax public accounting professionals, would benefit from this course. Professionals working in this field require industry-specific information on numerous topics. Financial staff need to understand the financial reporting requirements unique to each entity type, such as limited partnerships. Knowledge of the funding sources unique to the industry, such as LIHTC and other programs, is also needed. Project surplus cash calculations and the loan and regulatory agreements to be considered are important to understand as well. Using materials published by Strength Matters, participants will also focus on additional financial reporting issues that arise throughout the life cycle of an affordable housing property, from predevelopment through year 15 investor exits and beyond.

We will use several techniques to accomplish the goals of this 11-module course including lecture, group questions, individual reflection exercises, reading and case studies. The course will be presented by two instructors, consisting of a CPA who specialize in the affordable housing industry and the CFO of an affordable housing enterprise.

Field of Study: Accounting Level: Intermediate Delivery Method: Group Internet

Prerequisite: Experience with the accounting of not-for-profit rental housing owner or related service provider is helpful but not required.
